HILL'S GRAND TOUR.
The New York Senator Speaks to the Democrats of the South.

INTRODUCED IN MISSISSIPPI AS THE PARTY'S NATIONAL LEADER.

A Series of Oration From Roanoke, Va., to Jackson, Miss.—His Urges Organization and Points to His Record in the Empire State—Reception at the Mississippi Capital.

Meridian, Miss., March 15.—Several thousand people assembled at Meridian, Miss., this morning when the train bearing Senator Hill and his party rolled into that city. He was received by the music of bands and an enthusiastic throng.

Senator Hill was introduced by Capt. W. H. Hardy, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, as follows:
"I have the pleasure of introducing to you a great Democratic leader, who has led us to victory in the past, and who will lead us to victory in the future. He is a man of great ability, and his record in the Empire State is a record of which we are justly proud."

Senator Hill was warmly received by the people. He spoke for an hour on national issues, denouncing the force bill and the Bill of Attainder.

Fellow-citizens of Meridian, I thank you for the earnestness of this reception. I have been told that you are a people who are proud of their rights, and I am glad to hear that. I am glad to hear that you are proud of your rights, and I am glad to hear that you are proud of your rights.

THE NEW BARRACKS

Plans That Wait the Passage of the Ceding Bill.

IMPROVEMENTS INTENDED BY OFFICERS BACHELLER AND ROBINSON.

Another Drill Ground to Be Established and Two New Lines of Officers' Quarters to Be Built—The Changes Described and Their Cost Estimated—To Be Commenced Soon.

Within twenty-four hours after the bill passed today the general government jurisdiction over Jefferson Barracks, a hundred workmen will be busy at the post carrying out the plans for its improvement.

Quartermaster-General Bacheiller, who is in Washington, will have to decide what the changes at the barracks shall be, but it is very likely that he will leave the entire matter in the hands of Capt. W. W. Robinson, the Quartermaster here, stationed there.

Capt. Robinson has been at the station a long time and has studied the site thoroughly. He understands exactly what changes must be made to turn the barracks into a handsome military post.

It has been busy for weeks studying the plans of builders and architects. He and Quartermaster-General Bacheiller have had a long talk about the needs of the barracks and have walked over the whole ground together discussing various plans that occurred to them as suggestions.

Presented themselves. The adoption of Capt. Robinson's plans will probably be a mere form when the time comes.

The barracks now are a collection of old buildings, low and weather stained, which are open at the eastern end towards the river. The long sides of the barracks are on the west and the bar across the western end.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE WEEK

"The Tyrolean" Scores Success—The Midway Play—Other Entertainments.

It is a daily in-stead spread that the Acropolis company is serving at the Grand in the "Tyrolean" and it received warm approval at the opening performance last evening.

It is not a variety show with an orchestral accompaniment, nor a farce surrounded by a few bits of music, but a legitimate comic opera with a touch of light sentiment, a dash of fun here and there, and an excellent share of melodious music. It appeals chiefly to lovers of music, although it is not without amusing diversions. Marie Tempest's singing of the "Nightingale" song is in itself a rich treat. It has a haunting refrain and is charmingly sung.

The performance is clean, clever and artistic. Marie Tempest does winning work as Adam. She is the embodiment of grace and daintiness, and has an attractive personality. She uses a pleasing voice in a capital way. Louise Headset is as bright and sparkling as a sunbeam. She is full of grace and charmingly vivacious, and makes a charming part of Christ in both singing and acting. Drew Donaldson is attractive and clever as the Prince. Marie, and Eva Davenport, is amusing as the Princess. Considerable credit is due to the company for the excellent singing of Marie Tempest, and Edwin Stevens contributed some good songs. The orchestra is well equipped with piano and violin. The music is well played and the singing is well done. The performance is well worth a visit to the Grand.

IRREGULAR TRADES.

Can They Be Prevented by the Merchants' Exchange?

AN EFFORT TO SUPPRESS THE COMMERCE.

Important Action Taken by the Board of Directors—Outside Traders Declared That an Important Rule Had No Legal Force—The Power of the Exchange to Fine Questioned.

The question of putting a stop to irregular trading is one that promises to be in one or more lawsuits between the Merchants' Exchange and some of its members if any attempt is made to enforce the rules. For a long time past irregular trading, which means trading outside of the established hours and in other places than the floor of the Exchange, has been going on in the most open manner, without any attempt to enforce the rules. Each day, at a meeting of the directors held yesterday afternoon, this step was taken in consequence of news received from Washington, and also to put the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange in line with those of Chicago and New York, which have adopted strict rules against outside trading.

The new rule proposed is to the effect that if the irregular trading is not stopped the Merchants' Exchange will probably fall to pass. It is believed that the rule will be adopted, but it is not yet certain. The rule is to be adopted, but it is not yet certain. The rule is to be adopted, but it is not yet certain.
